10. Force Majeure. Neither party shall be obligated to perform any duty, requirement or obligation hereunder if such performance is prevented by fire, hurricane, earthquake, explosion, war, civil disorder, sabotage, accident, flood, acts of nature or by any reason of any other matter or condition beyond the control of either party which cannot be overcome by reasonable diligence and without unusual expense ("Force Majeure"). In no event shall economic hardship or lack of funds be considered an event of Force Majeure. Additionally, should funds not be utilized, and services or programs not provided within the specific required time period in this Contract due to circumstances outside the control of Recipient, including but not limited to, a Force Majeure event, City is under no obligation to amend or extend this Contract to provide the approved funding past the expiration of the performance period set forth in this Contract. Any amendment to this Contract for such purposes shall be at City's sole discretion, based upon its budget, available funds, and other factors it may deem relevant.

Recipient must follow all Federal, State, County, and City safety guidelines, including all CDC safety guidelines in effect during the term of the Program, including but not limited to social distancing, and personal protection equipment. To the extent considered necessary by City, any sums due Recipient hereunder may be retained by City until all of City's claims for indemnification hereunder have been settled or otherwise resolved, and any amount withheld shall not be subject to payment or interest by City.

B. Recipient acknowledges and agrees that City would not enter into this Contract without this indemnification of City by Recipient. The parties agree that one percent (1%) of the total compensation paid to Recipient hereunder shall constitute specific consideration to Recipient for the indemnification provided under this Paragraph and these provisions shall survive expiration or early termination of this Contract.

13. Sovereign Immunity. Nothing in this Contract shall be construed to affect in any way the rights, privileges and immunities of the City and its agents as set forth in §768.28, Florida Statutes. Nothing herein shall be construed as consent from either party to be sued by third parties.

14. Non-Assignability and Subcontracting.

A. Non-Assignability. This Contract is not assignable and Recipient agrees it shall not assign or otherwise transfer any of its interests, rights or obligations hereunder, in whole or in part, to any other person or entity without City's prior written consent which must be sought in writing not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the date of any proposed assignment. Any attempt by Recipient to assign or transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder without first obtaining City's written approval shall not be binding on City and, at City's sole discretion, may result in City's immediate termination of this Contract whereby City shall be released of any of its obligations hereunder. In addition, this Contract and the rights and obligations herein shall not be assignable or transferable by any process or proceeding in court, or by judgment, execution, proceedings in insolvency, bankruptcy or receivership. In the event of Recipient's insolvency or bankruptcy, City may, at its option, terminate and cancel this Contract without any notice of any kind whatsoever, in which event all rights of Recipient hereunder shall immediately cease and terminate.

B. Subcontracting. Prior to subcontracting for Work to be performed hereunder, Recipient shall be required to obtain the written approval of the City's Contract Administrator. If the City's Contract Administrator, in his/her sole discretion, objects to the proposed subcontractor, Recipient shall be prohibited from allowing that subcontractor to provide any Work hereunder. Although Recipient may subcontract Work in accordance with this Paragraph, Recipient remains responsible for any and all contractual obligations hereunder and shall also be responsible to ensure that none of its proposed subcontractors are listed on the Convicted Vendors List in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 26 below.

16. Audit and Inspection Records. Recipient shall permit authorized representatives of the City to inspect and audit all data and records of the Recipient, if any, related to the Work being funded by this Contract until three (3) years after City's final payment under this Contract. Recipient agrees that such inspections and audits may include City's authorized representatives auditing Recipient's financial affairs at any time with no advance notice by City.

Recipient further agrees to include in all subcontracts hereunder a provision to the effect that the subcontractor agrees that City or any of its duly authorized representatives shall,

18. Independent Contractor. Recipient shall be deemed an independent contractor for all purposes, and employees of Recipient and all its contractors, subcontractors and the employees thereof, shall not in any manner be deemed to be employees of the City. As such, the employees of Recipient, its contractors or subcontractors, shall not be subject to any withholding for tax, social security or other purposes by City, nor shall such contractor, subcontractor or employee be entitled to sick leave, pension benefits, vacation, medical benefits, life insurance, workers or unemployment compensation or the like from City. Furthermore; nothing in this Contract shall be deemed to constitute or create a joint venture, partnership, pooling arrangement or other form of business entity between Recipient and City.

3. Ensure that public records that are exempt or confidential and exempt from public records disclosure requirements are not disclosed except as authorized by law for the duration of the contract term and following completion of the Contract if Recipient does not transfer the records to the City.

4. Upon completion of this Contract, transfer, at no cost to City, all public records in its possession or keep and maintain public records required by the City as required hereunder. If Recipient transfers all public records to the City upon completion of this Contract, Recipient shall destroy any duplicate public records that are exempt or confidential and exempt from public records disclosure requirements. The intent of this provision is that City shall not be constrained to exercise such remedy at a time when it may still hope to otherwise resolve the problems created by the default or risk nor shall any waiver made by City with respect to any specific default by Recipient be considered a waiver of City's rights with respect to that default or any other default by Recipient.

31. Absence of Conflicts of Interest. Both parties represent they presently have no interest and shall acquire no interest, either direct or indirect, which would conflict in any manner with their performance under this Contract and that no person having any conflicting interest shall be employed or engaged by either party in their performance hereunder.

32. Binding Effect. The benefits and obligations imposed pursuant to this Contract shall be binding and enforceable by and against the parties hereto.

33. Employment Eligibility. By entering into this Contract, the Contractor becomes obligated to comply with the provisions of Section 448.095, Fla. Stat., "Employment Eligibility." This includes but is not limited to utilization of the E-Verify System to verify the work authorization status of all newly hired employees, and requiring all subcontractors to provide an affidavit attesting that the subcontractor does not employ, contract with, or subcontract with, an unauthorized alien. Failure to comply will lead to termination of this Contract, or if a subcontractor knowingly violates the statute, the subcontract must be terminated immediately. Any challenge to termination under this provision must be filed in the Circuit Court no later than twenty (20) calendar days after the date of termination. If this contract is terminated for a violation of the statute by the Contractor, the Contractor may not be awarded a public contract for a period of one (1) year after the date of termination.

Heal The Planet educates children about the power of our daily choices and the significant impact these choices have on the health and wellbeing of ourselves, our communities, and our planet. We provide innovative education programs through school and community partnerships to inspire a generation of leaders empowered to Heal The Planet.

Brief Overview of Nonprofit:

Heal The Planet provides free education, resources, and community programs to inspire and foster holistic wellbeing for people and the planet. HTP's innovative environmental education program inspires a generation of leaders empowered to Heal The Planet. Filling a gap in traditional education, HTP's flagship SEED (Sustainable Energy EDucation) Program offers local Title 1 Broward County schools an important supplemental education program focused on nutrition, life skills, mindfulness, and environmental issues through 6-week and year-long options. Our free education program also includes Young SEEDs in the Park, a free 2.5-hour program for children ages 5-12 held twice a month at Snyder Park in Fort Lauderdale. With all three streams combined SEED has reached over 14,500 local children and the number we reach annually is growing each year.

Other community programming facilitated through HTP includes monthly beach cleanups, HTP sports, and more. We have inspired more than 12,000 south Floridians through our community programming AND we have kept more than 3,300 lbs of garbage out of our oceans through monthly beach cleanup events in partnership with the City of Fort Lauderdale! Additionally, in 2020 we established our free online resource, 100+ Ways to Heal The Planet. It was utilized by over 53,000 visitors in 2024.

Which funding priority/sub pillar does your nonprofit qualify for?

Workforce Excellence: Education

How does your program/event(s) fit the funding priority/sub pillar?

HTP's SEED program fills a glaring gap in traditional education that provides students in Pompano Beach with tools and skills that reduce behavioral problems, help to prevent anxiety and depression, and help students to improve their focus in school. The SEED program holistically shows students how their daily choices of food, thoughts, activity, and more are interconnected and impact their own health, the community, and our planet. Nutritional awareness around hidden sugars and nutrient dense snacks and foods are not being taught in the current school curriculum and many students don't understand how unhealthy eating can affect them. While mindfulness is being addressed in some ways, our experience shows that the Title 1 schools in Broward need support in this area. The CDC has determined that school-based mindfulness programs help to promote classroom engagement, emotion regulation, social skills, optimism, and productive classroom behavior. Heal The Planet's SEED program addresses each of these concepts and then guides students to better understand the interconnectedness of their daily decisions. They witness firsthand how their choices affect their own well-being, and the well-being of other students around them. It's a transformative experience that ignites a passion for responsible action.

The 6-week and year-long SEED Programs are primarily offered to 4th-8th grade classes in Title 1 Broward County schools. Children in Broward County's Title 1 schools come from low- or moderate-income (LMI) families and are less exposed to information around nutrition, mindfulness, sustainability, and the power of choice. The SEED program arms them with these tools that help them gain the behaviors, and skills needed to focus on achievement and better succeed in school.

Statement of Need:

Many scientific studies indicate that the inclusion of formal environmental education and mindfulness programs yields numerous positive outcomes for students, such as improved academic performance, greater student engagement, improved mental health outcomes, and a deeper sense of community, among others. "Environmental education (EE) is widely praised by educators for its ability to combine different subjects, support the growth of young people academically and socially, and encourage the protection of nature." (National Environmental Education Foundation)

Additionally, children and teens in the United States are struggling with mental health more than ever before. According to a CDC study from 2021, "44% percent of teens experienced feelings of sadness or hopelessness that prevented them from participating in normal activities." But we at HTP have seen that mindfulness programs, specifically in schools, reduce behavioral problems, help to prevent anxiety and depression, and help students to improve their focus. The CDC also found that school-based mindfulness programs helped to promote classroom engagement, emotion regulation, social skills, optimism, and productive classroom behavior. And, in an article with Psychology Today, Dr. Joshua Felver, a licensed psychologist and Cornell researcher, says "Mindfulness-based programming is known to have broad-ranging, positive health effects, and in particular stress reduction. By reducing stress, mindfulness programming affects all the other health outcomes associated with stress. And we know that it helps people to build resilience."

An ever-growing gap between the foods that we consume, and the origins of those foods exists in today's rapidly changing world. This lack of connection, coupled with the seemingly exponential increase in single-use plastics and unnecessary packaging materials that are prominent in our everyday lives, presents a significant challenge for today's youth. Education from a young age about the choices we make, both with what we eat, and with what we purchase as consumers, will help to re-establish these connections with where our food comes from, and with the natural world around us. The generations of tomorrow will need to be equipped with this knowledge in order to collectively improve the health of both humanity and our planet.

Locally, more than 15% of Broward County families are food insecure, with limited access to healthy nutrition and fresh fruits and vegetables - a cornerstone of any developing child's diet. Our own research with individuals enrolled in our Title 1 programs suggests that 80% of students say they eat primarily fast-food diets, which leads to a high rate of children's diabetes and obesity, among other health issues. If left unchecked, this condition will cripple our country's healthcare system. Furthermore, the current public-school curricula often lack the teaching of vital life skills, which can lead to feelings of low self-worth, poor health and hygiene, bullying, anxiety, and burnout. We understand the importance of changing these statistics and shifting the paradigm, and aim to introduce kids to healthier, easy-access, whole foods, and equip them with the ability to make healthier choices in their everyday lives.

Our programs aim to not only improve the ability of students to make healthier dietary choices, but also to see firsthand the consequences of the over-consumptive nature of today's American lifestyle. Through hands-on experiences both in school, and in our natural habitats, children will be immersed in holistic, experiential learning that is not offered through traditional educational programs.

They also learn about healthy eating and are provided with opportunities to teach these skills to their families. Through this program Pompano Beach children learn that they matter, their choices matter, and they have the power to make positive changes in their own lives and in the world around them, making them better, more engaged students and, eventually, adults.

Heal The Planet would be happy to discuss other partnership opportunities with the City of Pompano Beach. There are numerous opportunities such as offering Young SEEDs in the Park at a local park or providing guided nature walks or beach clean ups in Pompano Beach.

What are your organization's credentials? Tell us why your organization does it better than anyone else.

In 2016, successful businessman and philanthropist Ken Fisher was called to initiate a nonprofit that would reflect his commitment to empowering children and developing solutions to our environmental challenges. Having found early success in the worlds of telecom and retail, Ken made a conscious choice to give back and became what he refers to as a "philanthropreneur," supporting the fundraising efforts of dozens of local nonprofits working to advance education, youth development, and environmental conservation. But Ken had a larger vision - he conceived of a practical education program for kids that would instill the values necessary to lead our world toward healing. To do this, Ken partnered with educators, thought leaders, and community partners to develop a comprehensive curriculum framed around the power of choice, and focused on nutrition, life skills, mindfulness, and environmental education. Ken wants every child to know that they matter, their choices matter, and that they have the power to make positive changes in their own life and the world around them.

Heal The Planet provides free education, resources, and community programs to inspire and foster holistic wellbeing for people and the planet. Filling a gap in traditional education, HTP's flagship SEED (Sustainable Energy EDucation) Program offers local Title 1 Broward County schools an important supplemental education program focused on nutrition, life skills, mindfulness, and environmental issues through 6-week and year-long options. Our free education program also includes Young SEEDs in the Park. Combined, these programs have reached over 14,500 local children and counting.

HTP's growth has been steady and strong. With our holistic programming and ease of replication in any school or community, our work is a cost-effective and impactful solution to our current environmental challenges and rising mental health struggles for school-aged children. As we continue to reach more students and schools across South Florida, we envision a more conscious and loving planet, where collectively we make choices that are in alignment with the health and well-being of our planet, and all its inhabitants.

Other than the program/event you are applying for, how is your organization serving the residents of the City of Pompano Beach?

Other programs we offer include beach cleanups, nature walks, and our Young SEEDs in the Park Program. HTP's office is located in Fort Lauderdale and many of these programs have been offered in partnership with Fort Lauderdale, but all are open to residents of Pompano Beach. We would also be very happy to partner with the City of Pompano Beach to bring these services to the Pompano Beach community. Since 2015 we have inspired more than 12,000 south Floridians through our community programming AND we have kept more than 3,300 lbs of garbage out of our oceans through our monthly beach cleanup events! Additionally, in 2020 we established our free online resource, 100+ Ways to Heal The Planet. It was utilized by over 53,000 visitors in 2024.

Any other information you wish to share?

Heal The Planet appreciates this opportunity to apply for a $5,000 grant from the City of Pompano Beach. We have a close relationship with Crystal Lake Middle School and look forward to the opportunity to provide our program to other schools in Pompano Beach and to discuss other ways we can work together to inspire a generation of leaders to help Heal The Planet.
