50 Years of Home Rule is Worth
Commemorating!

Colleagues,

The 50th anniversary of Home Rule is happening now. And it is something to celebrate.

We can't just let this milestone pass us by. We owe it to the people that fought for it. And we owe it to our future generations. So we are asking you – each and every one of Florida's 412 cities, towns and villages – to pass a resolution this summer celebrating 50 years of Home Rule. Click here to download a template.

As national politics continue to divide this country, city governance continues to thrive. Why is that? Because the government closest to the people governs best.

These days, cities make their own news. Sharing your support for Home Rule is perfect content to communicate with your residents.

- Use your website, newsletters and social media platforms to showcase that you've passed this resolution.
- More importantly, share why Home Rule matters to your community.
- Record a 30-second video message of your mayor or full council sharing that the resolution was passed.
- Send the resolution to your community stakeholders. And don't forget the local media!
- Finally, ask your business and non-profit partners to do the same thing. Give them a draft or ask the League to provide one.

The more voices in our communities talking about Home Rule, the bigger the celebration will be!
